

VISUAL ARTS

The Abbotsford School District offers international students an exceptional opportunity to study visual arts in a welcoming and creative environment. With a wide variety of courses in drawing, painting, sculpture, photography, and digital media, students are encouraged to express themselves artistically while developing strong technical and conceptual skills. Modern facilities, experienced teachers, and a supportive school community help students thrive both academically and creatively. Whether you're preparing for a future in the arts or simply want to explore your creative side, Abbotsford's visual arts programs provide a rich and inspiring experience that blends Canadian education with global perspectives.

- All schools have dedicated Art Studios
- Some classes run after the regular school day to allow extra time for portfolio development
- Students show their works in the schools and in the community. Each year there are major shows at the local art gallery
- Many students have won scholarships and have gone on to study art at University or other well known art schools

CLASS OPTIONS

Students can choose from ...

- Ceramics and Sculpture
- Drawing and Painting
- Digital and Print Photography
- Graphic Arts
- Digital Arts
- Media Design

Consult course planning guides to see which classes are available in each school

Do you eat, sleep and breathe art in every cell of your body?

At the Abbotsford School of Integrated Arts (Grades 6-12) creativity is at the heart of learning. ASIA offers a unique educational experience where dance, drama, music, visual arts, digital arts, and creative writing are seamlessly woven into the core curriculum. Students don't just study—they create, perform, and innovate, using the arts to deepen their understanding across all subjects. With a focus on collaboration, self-expression, and academic excellence, ASIA empowers students to grow as confident, creative thinkers ready to thrive in any path they choose. If you're passionate about the arts and eager to learn in a dynamic, inspiring environment—this is the place for you!

*Please note this is a small school, there is limited space in this school, students must submit portfolios or auditions in order to be accepted. Contact our office before applying

For more information contact international@abbyschools.ca
<https://international.abbyschools.ca>

